G20 SUMMIT IN INDONESIA:
What opportunity for BRICS, NAM and Russia-Ukraine Crisis?

Saturday May 28, 2022 at 15:00 PM Paris Time

(09:00 AM Montreal/New York/Cochabamba/Havana = 10:00 AM Rio de Janeiro = 13:00 Dakar/Rabat = 15:00 PM Rome/Budapest/Vienna/Belgrade/Johannesburg = 16:00 PM Moscow/Athens/Palestine = 18:30 PM Delhi = 18:45 PM Kathmandu = 20:00 PM Jakarta/Bandung/Surabaya = 21:00 PM Bali/Beijing/Shanghai/Taipei = 22:00 PM Seoul/Tokyo).

The recent development related to G20 Summit and Russia-Ukraine crisis raises questions:

- 1) Indonesia has decided to invite Ukraine. Will Putin and Zelensky meet in Indonesia?
 - 2) Zelensky has just declared that the war will end with diplomacy. What chance for negotiation?
 - 3) China has just taken over the BRICS presidency. What chance for BRICS consolidation and/or expansion?
 - 4) While the ideal of NAM is appreciated outside NAM countries, the NAM countries remain silent on the crisis. What problem?
 - 5) US-ASEAN Summit in USA. What impact on China-US tension?
 - 6) Biden's tour in Asia. Consolidation of Western allies of Asia against China?
 - 7) Election of Marcos in Philippines and Albanese in Australia. What perspective for Indo-Pacific alliance?
- Etc.
